

Surveillance Investigator - New York City

We are seeking only the best candidates for the position of video surveillance specialist. The right candidate will perform investigations on insurance fraud cases using top surveillance equipment as well as a company provided vehicle.

This is a great opportunity to those candidates that are trying to get into the law enforcement field. Most federal and municipal agencies are not hiring right now, or have long waiting lists, or want you to have experience. We can provide that experience! Also, there is a proven feeder program we have to many top federal agencies as well as investigative units of major insurance companies. We are also a good company to grow with as well. We pay high wages for this industry and can also provide overtime and bonus opportunities.

The successful candidate will possess the following qualifications:

- *Recent Graduate with a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice and/or military experience
- *Strong competitive nature
- *Cellular phone and laptop
- *Detail oriented with strong written and oral communication skills
- *Clean driving and criminal record
- *Flexibility with schedule and ability to perform frequent travel

Although frequent travel does apply, most of the work will occur in the New York City area. The position starts at a competitive hourly rate with plenty of overtime as well as performance based monthly and yearly bonus opportunities available.
